NASFAA
NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID ADMINISTRATORS

Provided by the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA), NASFAA U offers a nationally recognized, consistent and rigorous program of education in administering the Title IV student financial aid programs. Both new and seasoned financial aid professionals will benefit from the professional credentials offered by NASFAA U.

Depending on the topic, each course is from three to eight weeks in length. The courses are 100% online with an asynchronous focus, meaning the individual attendee can log on anytime/anyplace (assuming they have Internet access) and participate in course requirements – there are due dates they will need to adhere to, i.e. weekly assessments that must be completed. There are also weekly synchronous class meetings. These live "Get-Together" classes last approximately one hour and are recorded for on-demand viewing by the course attendee.

After each course, participants have have 40 days with two attempts to study for and take the credential test for the topic. Complimentary access to the credential test is provided after successfully completing and passing the course.

Benefits include:

- Expanded financial aid knowledge leading to improved service to students
- Differentiator for staff and for your campus
- A competitive edge for your campus

Visit the NASFAA website for more information at: https://www.nasfaa.org/NASFAA_U.

About NASFAA

The National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA) provides professional development for financial aid administrators; advocates for public policies that increase student access and success; serves as a forum on student financial aid issues; and is committed to diversity throughout all activities.

ECMC